Call to Worship (Psalm 8:1-6, 9))

Leader: O LORD, our LORD, how majestic is Your name
in all the earth!

Congregation: You have set Your glory
above the heavens.

Leader: From the lips of children and infants
You have ordained praise,

Congregation: because of Your enemies,
to silence the foe and the avenger.

Leader: When I consider Your heavens,
the work of Your fingers,

Congregation: the moon and the stars,
which You have set in place,

Leader: what is man that You are mindful of him,

Congregation: the son of man that You care for him?

Leader: You made him a little lower than the heavenly beings and crowned him with glory and honor.

All: LORD, our LORD, how majestic is Your name
in all the earth!

“God’s goal is that we would grow in Christlikeness- so that each day we look a little more like Jesus and little less like ourselves. This process is called sanctification.”

- from WE OVER ME by Whitney Capps

Pastor’s Moment

There is a common misconception that believers should be perfect. Pretending to have our life in order, many of us wear a happy face and speak words that sound acceptable. At times we’re ashamed to admit our shortcomings, as if they should not exist. Salvation through Jesus, however, doesn’t change the fact that sin is present in our life. When we’re born again, God forgives us and sees us as righteous. Yet our battle with sin continues till we arrive in heaven.

In fact, striving for perfection actually can be a trap that pulls us away from living a godly life. Functioning in this way is a form of relying on our own abilities. Jesus said that He came to heal the spiritually sick because they recognized their weakness. With an awareness of our inadequacy comes the realization of our need for Him.

The world sees successful individuals as powerful and self-sufficient, but Jesus doesn’t care about these qualities. Instead, He wants people to be aware of their own brokenness. This is the foundation for godliness. We should accept our neediness and seek God passionately. Doing so allows the following attributes to develop: a hunger for God’s Word, faithful service, deepening trust, and decision-making based upon principle rather than preference. Patiently and mercifully, God matures us.

Be careful not to cover up your sins in order to look like a “good Christian.” Without recognition and confession of our sin, we are unable to rely fully on God. It is only with this awareness that we can passionately seek Him, obey in His strength, and repent when we miss the mark.
